

Amendments to the Abstract

This abstract will replace all prior versions.

Process for preventing frauds with regard to a taxi equipped with an electronic taximeter (1) possessing a "for hire" position and a tariff position, which is associated with a printer whose job is to print, at the end of each trip, a receipt intended to be given to the customer[[,]]. ~~said~~ The printer having has at least its printing head (20) mechanically separate from the taximeter (1), but being electronically connected to it, ~~which consists in the~~ taximeter. The process includes detecting the occurrence of a disconnection of the printing head (20) of the printer with respect to the taximeter. (1), ~~and as the case may be:~~ If the disconnection occurred while the taximeter is in the "for hire" position, ~~in prohibiting~~ the subsequent switching of the taximeter into the tariff position[[,]] is prohibited. ~~for as long as this disconnection endures,~~ If the disconnection occurred while the taximeter is in the tariff position, ~~in triggering~~ an antifraud action is triggered.